Archbishop Walsh is new to the Monsignor Martin League basketball this year. They are lead by sophomore leadi scorers Ryan Whelpley and Deon Gayton. Whelpley reach the 1000 point mark for his career earlier this season. T presents of seniors Rich DiMartino, Caelen Clark, and Co Clark add experience to the starting line-up, while junior Jo Cook contributes solid minutes down low off the bench. T Walsh program fields a hard working team that plays tou until the final horn each night.

Bishop Timon / St. Jude Tigers

#2 Kyle Kobis

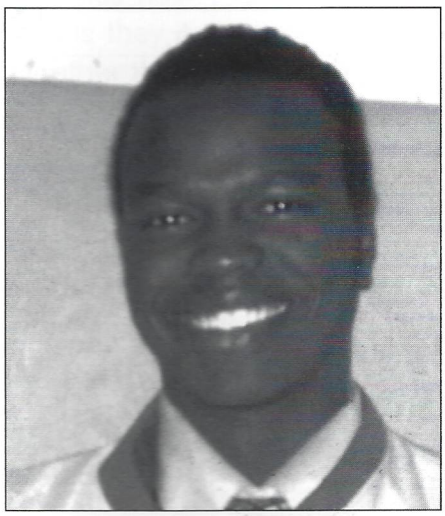

#35 Kyle Mackowiak

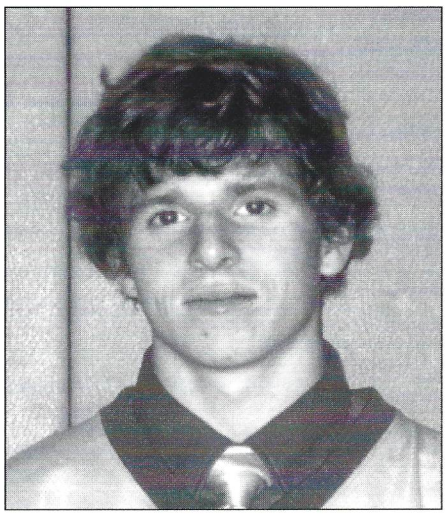

The varsity basketball team is looking to make a serious run at the Manhattan Cup this year. After a 13-3 record last season, Timon is looking to improve from last year. With the loss of five seniors, the Tigers return eight players from last year's team. The team is happy to to welcome back Mike Scarcello, who missed last season due to a broken leg.

Co-Captains Dut Dour and Mike Scarcello are leading the way for this year's varsity team. Dut is possibly the most improved player in Western New York. With his rebounding ability and inside presence he is tough to defend. After missing last season, Mike is running the point this year in hopes to lead his team to a winning season. His ball handling and shooting ability will fill in the gaps from last year's season. The rest of the starters include senior Kyle Mackowiak, junior Dave Scarcello and sophomore Kyle Kobis. Kyle Mackowiak has been the "unsung" hero of this year's team. His rebounding both on offense and defense and put-backs underneath the basket has really helped his team win games. Dave Scarcello, a three point shooter and great defensive player, really keeps this team rolling. Only a sophomore, Kyle Kobis is a real threat from beyond the arc. As for the rest of the team Chris Kane, Brian Niederpruem, and Jordan Williams provide valuable minutes off the bench. Seniors Joe Beyers and Pat Hayes look to create havoc with their defensive pressure. Zak Persichini and Sean Fay round out this year's roster.

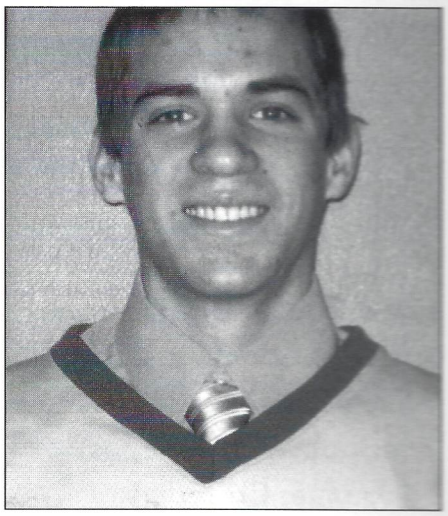

The keys to this year's Tigers are their team chemistry, work ethic and confidence. Timon faces a hard schedule, with tough league and non-league games, a trip to Disney's Wide World of Sports for a Holiday Tournament and will end with a run at the Manhattan Cup.

Manhattan Cup Championship. With 8 returning players from that championship team and 4 newcomers there is one goal, winning the Manhattan Cup.

Returning all-WNY and all-state player Blair Helton leads the team in scoring (22ppg) and has also improved every other aspect of his game on both ends of the court. As one of the team's captains, Blair leads by example and looks to get teammates involved whenever possible. The other captain, Max Baire, never takes a play off, always plays hard and is capable of putting the ball in the basket every time he steps on the court.

The other seniors on the roster are Brian Graham, Dingane Doucet, Jimmy Gaines, Drew Osei and Kevin Peterson. Brian is a very good defender, extremely unselfish and can score when needed. Dingane fought his way back on the court this year after a knee injury kept him on the sideline during last season. Also a very good defender, Dingane distributes the ball well and can knock down the open shot. Jimmy Gaines is a very tenacious and strong defender and can rebound against anyone as well as score. Jimmy will be attending the University of Miami (FL) in the fall on a football scholarship. Drew Osei has worked hard on his game and has played some important minutes for the team. He can score and rebounds well and when called upon can score. Kevin Peterson can shoot the ball from anywhere and worked hard in the offseason to become more of an all-around player.

The juniors are led by point guard Aaron Nevins who gained invaluable experience during his time last year on the varsity roster and has grown as a player capable of taking over a game on either end. Gordon Lyons is another key to the success of the Crusaders, who can score if needed, Gordon rebounds the ball extremely well. His defense continues to improve while often guarding players of all sizes. CJ Coatsworth is an athletic big man that has improved as the year has gone on offensively and defensively. CJ runs the floor well and can finish while often forcing opponents to adjust their shots once in the paint. Richard Walsh is a crafty guard who sees the floor very well and has done a fine job with the minutes he's seen while backing up the guard position. Ring Henry is an athletic swingman whose gotten better with every opportunity he's had in games and practice.

Canisius hasn't taken many nights off playing an extremely demanding schedule and hopes to see the results they crave come February 28th. If the Crusaders continue to work hard as a team and play together there is no limit to what they can accomplish together.

Cardinal O'Hara Hawks

For the Cardinal O'Hara Hawks, the 2009-2010 season meant change, most of which was due to newly appointed Head Coach Dave Pfohman. Pfohman plans to return Cardinal O'Hara to its former glory. The Hawks hope to begin this new era with the kind of success that comes from strong, hard-working individuals who pull together as one.

"Without discipline, you cannot succeed on or off the court." Coach Pfohman's perspective on the game of basketball and how it should be played breathes new life into a program in need of leadership and clear direction. Even with a 2-12 start, the Hawks continue to be prime examples of what it takes to be quality basketball players. The team's strong work ethic and dedication keeps them focused on improvement as players, students and individuals. With these values taking priority, the Hawks stay the course and look forward to becoming a strong contender in the years to come.

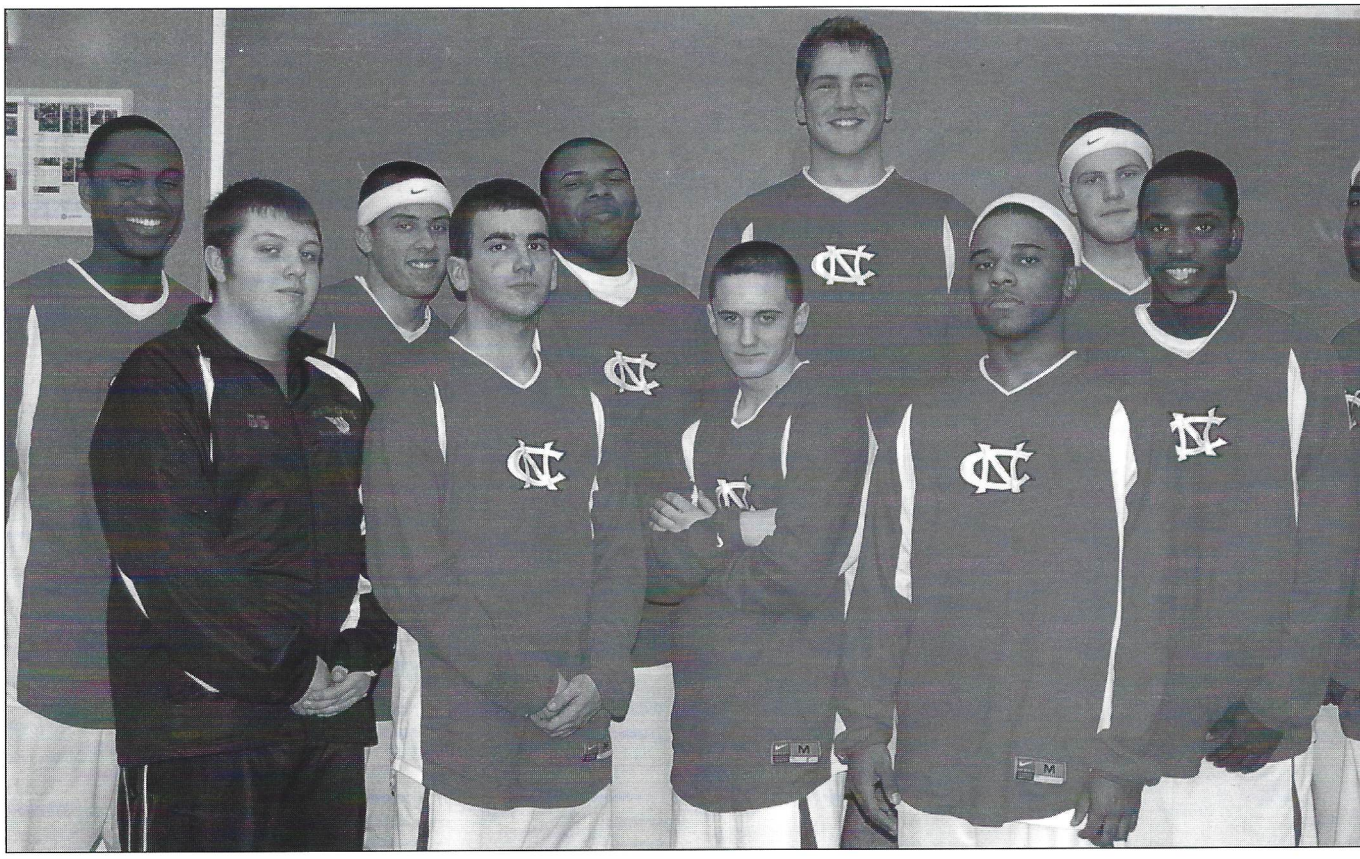

The Hawks' strength stems from the leadership of senior center Ryan O'Sullivan, senior guard Matt Mullin and sophomore guard Jeremiah Moore. The offense, especially in transition, is spear-headed by junior guard Dazmond Knight. Knight's ability to see the floor, make patient, effective decisions, and clutch shots from beyond the arc, makes him a strong part of the team. Senior forward Brendon Brady adds to the Hawks offense with dependable jump shots and an intense offensive presence. However, Brady's rebounding on both offensive and defensive boards is what makes him shine.

Senior guards Tom Wilkie, Tim Ball, Jeff DiPalma, junior guard Xavier Evans and sophomore Dareon Washington have been strong contributors in their own unique roles in keeping this team moving forward.

With new beginnings comes new opportunities. Coach Pfohman's unique style of coaching in combination with the strong moral values instilled by the entire coaching staff promises to lead O'Hara's student athletes toward a positive successful future.

Niagara Catholic Patriots

With six seasoned seniors returning to the 2009-10 Niagara Catholic Patriots coaches Eric Fields and Bob Lewis were hoping for a significant improvement over last season's disappointing 4-22 showing.

The early returns from the non-league portion of the schedule were encouraging but the Patriots were still in pursuit of their signature win in MMAA play, that one victory which lends credence to every squad's aspirations.

NC bolted out of the gate with a 12-5 record this year, earning a 10-1 non-league record, an 8-1 start on its home court, and a pair of wins over Class AA Niagara Frontier League teams on the road.

The Patriots are still working to become more consistent in both effort and execution but they've been buoyed by the stellar play of their senior backcourt tandem of Lorenzo Joseph and Jerome Matthews.

Joseph, who averaged just under 19 points a game while leading the team in assists and steals last season, has continued and even surpassed those efforts this year. His biggest improvements though have come on the defensive side of the ball and in his decision making.

Matthews has enjoyed by far the most significant jump in production of any of the returnees, increasing his scoring average over 10 points a game to just under 17. His team-leading three-point shooting has helped create some space for the team's slashers.

While the play in the backcourt has been NC's solid foundation, the Patriots' chances for having a memorable season may well boil down to the play of 6-10 senior center Stephen Beck. Although his 13 to 14 rebounds a game make him an invaluable asset on the glass, Beck has barely scratched the surface of his huge offensive potential. NC is hoping that his breakthrough comes during its stretch run.

Marquis Iveys, last year's sixth man, has become a leader by example and has taken on the role of defensive stopper while pacing the team in offensive rebounding. Power forward Eric Fields Jr., the lone junior in the starting lineup, handles all the unheralded blue collar tasks that never appear in the box score yet are always needed to earn a victory.

Senior Zach Evans has provided perimeter firepower and rebounding, junior transfer Jordan Rhodes his speed, energy, and defense while logging heavy minutes off the Patriots' bench. Junior Jeffrey Hare, a tireless defender and offensive rebounder, has managed to crack the NC rotation while working on his offensive skills.

NC hopes to get effective long distance shooter Mark Nearhood, who's been injured for all but three games, back before the start of playoffs.

MARAUDERS

St. Joseph's Marauders

The St. Joe's basketball team was played one of their toughest schedules in recent history, recording an 8-7 mark through the first 15 games. Senior Kyle Wojciechowski and Junior Connor Rehbaum have been the most consistent Marauders scoring in double figures on most evenings. Junior Jake Spitler has established himself on the varsity this season as both a scoring threat and as a strong rebounder. Senior Jim Maiarana and Junior Steven Moser have shared time at the point guard position while seniors Brian Killeen and Matt Dyrek, junior Tom Escott and sophomore Chad Kelly have all played important roles in the number 5 position.

Coach Mark Simon says the key to this year's team is the strength of the bench. At times this season, Coach Simon has been able to substitute an entire group of five because of the team's depth.

The highlight of the season to date for St. Joe's was their come from behind victory in the championship game of the Williamsville South Jolly Boy's Christmas tournament. Trailing by double digits entering the fourth quarter, St. Joe's employed a pressing defense and a hot shooting hand to defeat Williamsville South.

St. Francis Red Raiders

The 2009-2010 St. Francis High School Varsity Basketball team boasts eight seniors this year, however only two players, Kyle Clifford and Matthew Reger saw significant playing time last season. Head Coach Ed Hoak believes this is his most talented team in his three years coaching varsity but just as the Raiders may have improved so have the rest of the Monsignor Martin League, with five Teams consistently ranked in the Buffalo News Top Ten polls.

Senior guard Kyle Clifford leads the team in scoring (15 ppg), assists (4.5 apg), and steals (3 spg). Clifford is joined in the backcourt by first year player senior Roland Kerr. Kerr, a football standout, missed the last two basketball seasons recovering from injuries. Kerr is a lighting quick slasher who can get to the basket at anytime. Coming off the bench at the guard position are senior sharp shooter Joseph Pantano, who can fill it up from 3 in a hurry, and sophomore ball handler Tyler Wagner.

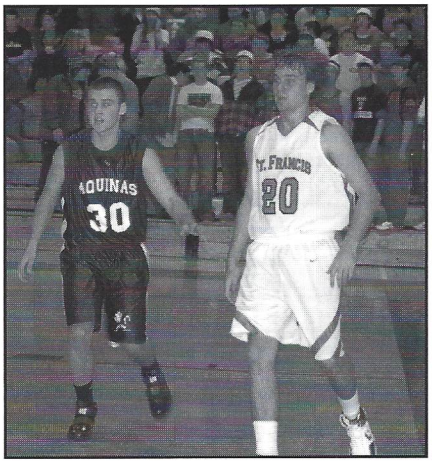

Early in the season one of the two forward spots was in question for the Raiders. Senior third year varsity player Matt Reger had one spot locked down and has not disappointed of late. Reger is second on the team in scoring (10 ppg) and rebounding (7 rpg) as well as playing outstanding on the defensive end of the floor. Mid way through the season junior forward Christopher Miller stepped up and claimed the other forward spot and has been the spark the Raiders were looking for. Miller has been excellent on both ends of the floor and has averaged over 10 rebounds per game since stepping into the starting lineup. Junior Michael Wagner is first off the bench for both forwards adding solid defense and toughness under the boards when called upon.

The center position has been hotly contested as seniors Anthony Wiechec, Desmond Howard, and Patrick Reichert have pushed each other day in and day out. Anthony Wiechec has held down the starting role for most of the season but all three players have seen significant minutes and contributed to the team's success thus far. Senior Jonathan Braun adds hard nose defense to every practice while junior Mark Cassidy and big man, 6'7" Joe Cauley add depth to the Raiders quest to success.

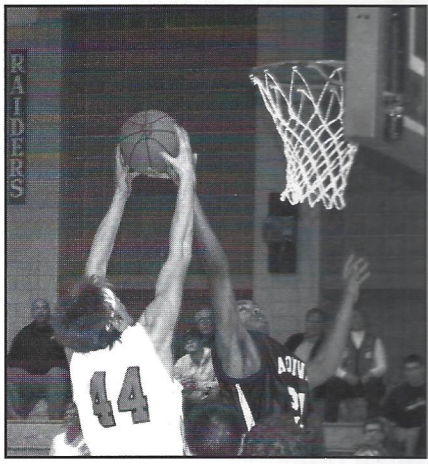

The Red Raiders began the season with key non league victories over Lake Shore, Maryvale, and Bennett and have really begun to hit their stride as they hit the mid way point of the season with key victories over ranked teams Timon/ St. Jude and St. Mary's of Lancaster. Don't count out this year's edition of the Red Raiders as they look to build momentum entering the Manhattan Cup Playoffs.

St. Mary's High School Lancers

The St. Mary's Lancers are coming off one of the most successful season in the school's basketball history. The 2008-2009 team captured the New York Class B Catholic State Championship and advanced to the state federation tournament in Glens Falls. This year's team has tried to use the Lancer basketball trademarks of an aggressive defense and an up-tempo game to try and notch some wins.

While not as deep as last year's squad, St. Mary's will be able to play a steady rotation of players, including senior co-captains Joe Barnhardt and Vince Kazmierczak. Kazmierczak, a guard who earned all-catholic and All-WNY honors last year, is a smart player who averaged 13 points and 6 rebounds a game last season. Barnhardt, who is recovering from off season knee surgery, is a 4 year varsity player who averaged 13 points a game while sharing point guard duties last year. Senior Joe Cellino adds some versatility to the Lancer squad with his superb outside shooting ability combined with his ability to get to the basket to create scoring opportunities. Jeremy Pyszczynski and Josh Gumulak will be counted on for their three point shooting ability and to provide depth at the guard positions. Junior Peter Notaro is a strong post player who has added a nice offensive game to compliment his defensive presence. Junior Chad Griffin who often defends the opposing teams' best player also has the versatility to play both the guard and forward spots.

The St. Mary's coaching staff is hoping youth will be served, as a multi-talented pair of sophomores have been counted on heavily in the starting line-up and as key reserves. Swingman Jake Denz, who has returned for his second varsity season will be expected to contribute heavily in the scoring and rebounding columns. Nathan Meyers has also played a significant role at the guard spot. Juniors Patrick Brown, Jeff Pazderski, Brandon Tytka, Mike Wrona and Danny Hamilton are coming off successful JV seasons and will look to provide depth at various positions.

As of press time, the Lancers have completed a strong non-league schedule and are making their way through the ever-challenging Msgr. Martin league schedule. Early season highlights include participating in a variety of prestigious events such as the Al Pastor-Cooper Tournament, Cataract Classic, ECIC/MMA Challenge and Tom Keenan Classic. The St. Mary's coaching staff feels like this is a good collection of talent and experience and are looking forward to participating in this years Manhattan Cup playoffs.

Mt. Mercy Academy enters the playoffs with one of the best point guards in Western New York, Senior, Katie Purcell. She has been a reliable scorer and defensive presence on a consistent basis. Joining Purcell in the back court is Meg Sheehan, a Freshman that has adjusted to the speed and level of competition well. Rounding out the guard positions are Chelsae Courtade, Kaitlyn Murphy, and Marissa Stack.

The frontcourt is led by a pair of Seniors that have demonstarted a nice touch on the inside and much needed leadership to this young core. Emily Williams and Molly Gasuick, though under-sized, have been a handful on the inside for the opposition. Emily Barrett, Sophmore, has brought great strength and aggressiveness to the team which has given the Magic a much needed spark. The Frontcourt is rounded out by Margaret Bender, an aggressive defender, and Melinda Alisch, from Germany, whom has contributed on the boards.

The Mount St. Mary Thunder is thriving under second year coach Mr. Steve Gathers. Hard work from the entire team and a "new system" have brought the team's record to a winning percentage for the first time in many years.

Seniors Bri Johnson and Jasmine Shabazz are the team's leading scorers, both averaging almost 10 points per game. Sophomore, Jasmine Shabazz is the leading rebounder, and junior Tara Topolski leads the team in blocks and steals. The fifth starter, senior Mary Emminger, has really stepped up her shooting the last few games and has given the Thunder just the right combination for success.

The remainder of the team, including seniors Sara Jank and Denise Flemming; junior, Nadia Gathers; and freshmen Sara DiPasquale and sisters Erika and Alyssa Perk have contributed much to help the team on its path to success.

The Niagara Catholic Lady Patriots were led this year by stand out senior Mary Cain. Cain averaged over 20 points, 10 rebounds, and nearly 8 steals per game. Her biggest asset by far is her vision of the floor and her desire to win. Cain lost her junior year due to a knee injury, and has worked relentlessly to return.

Fellow senior forwards Taraneh Jacobs and Jolene Lambert have provided key floor leadership for the team. They have anchored the Patriot inside game, although regularly out-sized these two young ladies stand toe to toe with all opponents and have improved steadily throughout their careers. Senior Reena Patel has been fighting medical concerns most of this season and has fought hard to help the program whenever possible.

The Patriots roster is rounded out by juniors Ally Coleman, Jordin Puzan and Sarah Signorelli. All three have logged significant playing time, and have contributed to the team's success this year. The coaching staff is very excited with their progress and looks forward to their continued growth into next season.

The Lady Lancers are a very young and energetic group that loves to play hard and fast. Led by seniors Chelsea Kiebzak (#20) and Stephanie Simmeth (#5), the lancers find themselves competing game in and game out with some of the best teams in Western New York. Starting juniors Raeann Stilwell, (#10) Victoria Fontana, (#13) and Maria Rosati (#34) give the lancers a well-rounded scoring attack and some much needed physical presence on the boards.

The Lady Lancers are a deep team that relies on a solid rotation of 8-10 players every game. Playing a huge role and giving the team a spark on a regular basis are seniors Nicole Richter, (#21) Trish Slawiak, (#24) and Kelsey Rademacher, (#4). The juniors that add to the St. Mary's deep pool of talent include Rachael Salamone, (#2) Amy Kawa (#3) and Nicole Gangloff (#30). Sophomore Tara Barnhardt (#14)is a versatile swing player that really helps on both sides of the ball

The Lady Lancers are coached by 4th year coach Keith Junik and assisted by Bruce Pienkowski and JV coach Dave Helak. The lancers love to get up and down the floor and play an up-tempo, in-your-face defensive style that allows them the ability to play with anyone.
