2003

Turner-Carroll closed their doors. This left an unbalanced five team A division, meaning only one school in the entire league would not make the playoffs. For the first time since 1979, the Monsignor Martin Association and the Buffalo City Harvard Cup league scheduled each other in non-league games. Six games were played between the two leagues with each winning three. St. Francis and St. Mary's repeated in the Championships played in Ralph Wilson Stadium. The title games were postponed from their original Thursday date to the following Tuesday due to weather conditions in Western New York.

The Nichols controversy continues. The league does not list them in their program yet the newspaper carries them in their standings. This year however, they chose not to bother submitting end of the year statistics to me. Neither did Walsh.
